

MINERS OF NATION TO STRIKE TONIGHT

3 MEASURES TO BE VOTED UPON
IN THE PRIMARY

One Constitutional Amendment and Two Initiated Measures Are Proposed

OTHER MEASURES FAIL

Propositions of Judge Robinson
And Jamestown Men Fail
Of Signatures

The primary election ballot in North Dakota will have the smallest number of measures to be voted upon by the people of any election in the last three elections. When the time for filing petitions for initiated laws ended last night there were petitioners on file sufficient to put but two measures on the ballot.

The initiated measures which will go on the ballot in June are: Initiated law to increase the limit of real estate loans by the state farm loan department from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000, and to repeal the teachers' salary law.

In addition there is a constitutional amendment to be referred to the people by action of the last legislature. It changes the requirements to permit a voter moving from one county to another to retain voting residence in one county until he has established voting residence in the county to which he has moved.

The 11 proposed initiative measures of Justice J. E. Robinson, of the supreme court, which caused considerable comment in the state and which, according to financial men, were the cause of some alarm by outside investors, will not go before the people.

Judge Robinson, asserting that he had received about 5,000 signatures to the petition, said that objections of investors caused sufficient opposition to prevent 10,000 signatures, the required number, being obtained on any proposed measure.

The measures proposed by Judge Robinson were: (1) To repeal the "dog tax" on lawyers; (2) To repeal the pool hall inspection statute; (3) Repeal the motor vehicle tax; (4) Repeal the tax commission law; (5) To repeal the income tax; (6) To repeal the coal mining statute requiring a year's experience before employment in a North Dakota mine; (7) To repeal the workmen's compensation statute; (8) To provide for a change in the method of assessment of real property; (9) To reduce by 50 per cent all unpaid taxes of the last three years, etc.; (10 and 11) To establish lower railroad rates.

Tax measures proposed by a group of Jamestown men did not receive enough signatures, although there were about 3,500 on file last yesterday. John B. Fried, of Jamestown, said the storm prevented the obtaining of sufficient number of signatures. The measures were known as counter-measures to the Robinson proposals.

No petitions were filed for the initiation of a law to permit Sunday movies, for which petitions were prepared, nor for the initiation of a motion picture censorship law as proposed by the state enforcement bodies.

SCHOOL KEYS
ARE STOLEN

Guard is Placed Over Richholt
School Following Depredation

Richholt school is now a carefully guarded school. Someone entered the building, rifled the desks of the teachers for what little money had been left in them and stole virtually all of the keys.

Because of the fact that the thief would be able to enter the building at any time with the keys, excepting the rear door, the front door has been barred. In the morning the janitor must open the rear door and then the front door to permit teachers and pupils to enter. He has been guarding the building at night.

There is said to be no clue to the persons who entered the building and committed the robbery.

OPPOSE JUDGES BEING BROUGHT INTO POLITICS IN THE COMING PRIMARY

State Official Says He Finds Opposition to Endorsement of Candidates

MISS AIMDON QUILTS

Will Not Be a Candidate on League Ticket—County Conventions to Be Held Soon

The call for the Jamestown convention, which includes the endorsement of three candidates for supreme court, and the endorsement by the Nonpartisan league convention of three candidates, has brought forth considerable opposition to bringing judges into the political arena in the primary.

One state official, whose name probably will go before the Jamestown convention for renomination, said today that he had received 25 or 30 letters from persons protesting at the inclusion by Burleigh Spalding of nominations for supreme court judges in the business of the convention.

These people, the official said, complain that the judges are on a nonpolitical ballot and that for either the Nonpartisans or the Jamestown convention to bring them into a political fight is not in accord with good principles of government nor of the constitution of the state.

The offices of judge of the supreme court and superintendent of public instruction were taken out of politics in order to prevent the nominations being subjected to convention log-rolling or their offices to political administration.

Miss Fanny C. Amidon, endorsed by the Nonpartisan league convention at Fargo for the post of superintendent of public instruction will not be a candidate, according to a statement made by her today. Miss Amidon, whose home is in Valley City, is a sister of Federal Judge Amidon. Miss Amidon said she was not taking part in politics and was not a candidate. She said she had not given permission for her name to be used.

Whether Senator W. J. Church, endorsed as the league candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, and as such a member of the Industrial Commission, will adhere to his oft-expressed desire to "take the state industries out of politics" by making an issue in the campaign out of it remains to be seen. Church has frequently made the statement that the control of the industries ought to be in the hands of a non-political board and as such came in opposition to many other leaders of his organization. State Senator B. F. Baker, the league candidate for Governor, in a statement accepting the league nomination says he stands on the "industrial program."

County conventions to select delegates to the Jamestown convention to be held April 19 will be selected soon. W. F. Reko, of Mandan, said the Morton county convention probably would be held April 14 or 15 in Mandan. E. C. Fogarty, of Sterling, who will call the Burleigh county convention, had not received the official word from B. F. Spalding yesterday.

The Second District Congressional race is not yet cleared up. With John Sherman, of Kidder county, named by the league there is opposition on the part of some to endorsing George Young at the Jamestown convention. It is not improbable that should the convention reject the name of Young that Thomas Hall, secretary of state, would be found in the race for Congress.

GRAND JURY TO

Likely Will Convene During
Next Term of Cass County
Court, Is Report

DISMISS TOWNLEY CASE

Attorney General Dismisses
Hearing Being Held Before
Judge Cole at Fargo

Fargo, March 31.—It is probable that the grand jury which will be asked for an investigation into finances of the defunct Scandinavian-American bank will be called to convene during the next term of Cass county district court, beginning in Fargo, April 11, William Green, state's attorney of Cass county, said today.

The charge of embezzlement was dismissed on motion of the Attorney General yesterday afternoon. It followed some sharp clashes between Judge Cole and the Attorney General, in which the latter declared that the judge refused to admit evidence that should be admitted.

Judge Cole ruled that the state must show embezzlement before attempting to prove Townley as an accessory. J. W. Brinton had been on the stand most of the day. Judge Cole held that the state had not proved embezzlement. Leslie Simpson, counsel for Townley, asked for dismissal. Judge Cole denied this. The action in dismissing the charge followed in the afternoon when the Attorney General (Continued on Page 3)

ONE COUNTY IN STATE PLANS TO CLASSIFY LAND

Tax Commissioner Doubts if Others Will Attempt To Do So This Year

Dunn county is the only county in the state that has entered into a contract for the classification of land under the statute enacted by the last legislature. Tax Commissioner C. C. Converse said today. He doubted if any more counties would attempt the classification this year because of the desire for economy in most counties. Assessors, who are starting their work in the state today, will operate along lines formerly observed.

Among the rulings made by the tax commissioner in his instructions to assessors is that the real test of value is what property would sell for under ordinary circumstances, not under a forced sale. Various interpretations have been placed upon the value of a property by assessors.

The tax commissioner has instructed assessors that in case of a residence located in what may be considered the business district of a city or town, the lot may be assessed upon its value as business property and in this case the house shall be assessed at a value based on the necessity of moving it to permit a business building to be erected.

The tax commissioner has ruled that apartment houses are entitled to be classed as residential property for the purposes of assessment and to receive the exemptions allowed for residential property.

SIAMESE TWINS
LEAVE PROBLEM

Chicago, March 31.—The death of Rosa and Josefa Blazek, the "Siamese Twins," has left the Cook county probate court with a legal problem which apparently is unprecedented. In determining the disposition of the $100,000 estate of the twins the court must decide if the 11-year-old Franz is the son of one or both of the twins.

A genetic controversy has resolved itself into the question "Were Rosa and Josefa one individual personality or did they constitute separate entities?"

MILLION LOSS
IN BIG FIRE

Miami, Fla., March 31.—The 300-room colonial hotel at Nassau in the Bahama Islands was destroyed today in a fire which for a time threatened destruction of most of the city, according to radio messages received here. The conflagration was controlled, however, after it had cost damage running into millions of dollars.

GOES TO LUNCH;
TAKES OWN LIFE

Chicago March 31.—W. T. Fenton, vice president of the National Bank of the Republic, left his desk to go to lunch at the usual hour today and a few minutes later committed suicide by jumping into the Chicago river. Officials of the bank said they could give no motive for the act.

ORGANIZATION IN WESTERN PART OF
STATE TO INCREASE INTEREST IN IRRIGATION URGED AT MEETING HERE

General E. A. Williams Tells Engineers of First Irrigation Congress in North Dakota—Other Speakers Discuss the Feasibility of the Proposed Projects in the Western Part of the State and Methods to be Taken to Increase Interest

Immediate organization of the people of the western part of North Dakota to forward immigration work was urged by Gen. E. A. Williams, at the meeting of the Bismarck chapter of the American Association of Engineers, held in the McKenzie hotel last night.

Gen. Williams, who was president of the first irrigation congress held in the state, declared that nothing could be done without organization. He proposed a revival of the old organization or the formation of a new one to promote irrigation.

PEACE PACT IS SIGNED BY TWO
IRISH STATES

North and South Ireland Agree
And Free State Party Is Strengthened

HAILED WITH DELIGHT

London, Mar. 31.—(By the Associated Press)—The Free State party in Ireland is enormously strengthened by the agreement for the pacification of the island, signed here last night between the North and South, the House of Commons was told by Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of colonies today. He paid tribute to what he termed the statesmanlike courage of the Ulster leaders.

READ IN COMMONS

London, March 31.—Winston Spencer Churchill, the imperial secretary for war, announced last night in the house of commons the terms of the most important agreement yet reached between the representatives of the northern and southern governments in Ireland for bringing about peace in the strife-torn country.

The agreement which was reached with unexpected expedition at a conference between delegates of the Irish groups and representatives of the imperial government, far transcends in importance the pact arrived at between Michael Collins, head of the provisional government and Sir James Craig, the Ulster premier, at an earlier stage in the negotiations.

It provides for the reorganization of police in Ulster on a basis satisfactory to the religious leanings of the people for the trial of persons charged with serious offenses by a special court composed of the highest justices; for general cooperation between the north and south of the most promising character, and for assistance from the British parliament to remedy the unemployment difficulties in Belfast, which rendered the carrying out of the previous Craig-Collins pact almost impossible.

Paris, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—France replied today to the note from the United States concerning payment of the cost of the American military occupation of the Rhineland.

The French note repeats the recent declaration of the minister of finance before the senate that France recognizes the right of the United States. The only question is to whom the request for reimbursement should be made—the allies or Germany, the note said.

URGE GUARD
FOR MANDAN

Organization of Company F of the North Dakota National Guard has begun in Mandan. It was announced at the office of Adjutant General G. A. Fraser. Roy Griffin is in charge of the organization.

The Service Company, 164th infantry, stationed at Lisbon, will receive inspection Tuesday night, April 4, it was announced. Capt. G. A. Anderson, inspector-instructor of the national guard in the state, will make the federal inspection and Gen. Fraser and Major Sorenson will accompany Capt. Anderson.

POTATO GROWERS ORGANIZE

Dickinson, N. D., March 31.—Drastic rules have been adopted by the Stark County Potato Growers association. Only Early Ohio potatoes will be recognized by the association, and no other, will be handled by the association. Members may grow other kinds but must handle them independent of the association. All potatoes used for seed must be treated with a solution of corrosive sublimate.

UNION LEADERS
CLAIM 600,000
TO QUIT WORK

Strike Officially Begins at Midnight; Actually Expected
To Begin Earlier

MUCH COAL ON HAND

Government Estimates Are That
There Is Coal Enough
For 48 Days

Pana, Ill., March 31.—The first actual stoppage of work in southern Illinois in connection with the miners strike occurred shortly before noon today when 800 miners employed at two collieries walked out.

N. D. MEN STRIKE

Burlington, N. D., March 31.—Union miners of the Midway Coal company's lignite mine this morning notified the company that they would walk out tonight at 9:30 when their shift ends. The move came as a surprise to operators who had expected no trouble with the nation-wide strike. About 35 men are affected.

DEFY KANSAS COURTS

Indianapolis, March 31.—The Kansas industrial court order extending the present wage agreement between miners and operators in Kansas for 30 days will not stop the suspension of work by union miners at midnight tonight, according to President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America.

Indianapolis, March 31.—(By the Associated Press)—The last day of work under present wage contracts was completed today by the country's half million union coal miners. Officially their suspension of work was set to begin tonight at midnight but virtually it was to start six hours ahead of schedule for most miners and their shifts at that hour.

The extent of the suspension, however, will not be a certainty until tomorrow.

A complete tie-up of union fields was predicted today by union officials at the union headquarters here and they also asserted that 100,000 non-union workers would stop work. President John L. Lewis said at least 600,000 men would join the walkout, including the non-union participants.

Pennsylvania will turn out the largest number of men and other states affected include Montana and Wyoming. The duration of the suspension in the union fields and the non-union mines is a matter of conjecture. The shut-down begins with warm weather approaching and with stocks on hand the largest at any time for the last several years. Government officials placed the stocks at 63,000,000 tons. The supply they estimated, will meet every demand for 48 days.

Not all of the anthracite fields are thought to be able to withstand a long strike and in a long drawn out struggle the fight may center in the strongly organized central competitive fields and the southwest interstate districts.

LAST 51 DAYS

Washington, March 31.—Coal stocks on hand as of today will hold out for 51 days if the rate of consumption continues on the January and February basis, according to estimates given the house labor committee today by the geological survey.

4,500 TO QUIT

Billings, Mont., March 31.—Four thousand five hundred coal miners in district No. 27 covering the bituminous fields of Montana and North Dakota will walk out in sympathy with the general strike set for midnight tonight according to Robert Condon, district secretary. There are 30 locals of the union involved in this district. Four thousand of the miners are in Montana.

NOT AFFECTED

The McCormick Coal company of New Salem, operating a lignite mine, will not be affected by the coal strike it was said today. The mine is non-union paying wages under an agreement with the miners.

The Lucky Strike Mine at Zap closes tomorrow under an order of the receiver for purposes of checking up the property. P. J. Cahill, receiver, said the mine will be closed for three months.

FARM PROBLEMS
HIS UNDOING

Chicago, March 31.—Because he thought that Durco Jerseys "runs to milk" and that Poland Chinas had something to do with entangling foreign alliances H. A. Smith, Flint, Mich., is entangled in the police net today. He was arrested in a department store yesterday on charges of attempting to pass a worthless check. He tried to play the part of an artless rustic in the store but a department manager who engaged him in conversation found he knew nothing of hogs and called the police.

HIGHWAY BODY MAKES ANSWER TO OPPONENTS

Declares That it Has Been Misrepresented by County Commission, Grand Forks Co.

CITES MONEY NOW SPENT

Florence Webster, of Fargo, Is Appointed to Place

The North Dakota Good Roads Association today issued a formal statement, answering statements made by J. R. Poupore, county commissioner of Grand Forks county, which the association said was an attack upon its program, the state highway commission administration and the association.

Mr. Poupore has misrepresented the association in charging that the association intended to bond the state to build roads and advocated a system of concrete roads across the state. The statement was mailed to all county commissioners in the state and to representatives of the association.

Says Money Wanted
It says in part:
"The State of North Dakota in the past ten years, leaving out entirely the State and Federal roads, has spent $35,000,000.00 on its highways and has built less than 3,500 miles of permanent roads, and if such figures are followed in building a State system of roads comprising about 5,000 miles, it is reasonable to compute that it will cost the State at least $50,000,000.00 to build the proposed system and will take at least ten years to complete it."

"Under our plan we can complete the entire State system of about 5,000 miles in less than five years and at a cost of less than $10,000,000.00. This looks to us that it means not only a saving of $40,000,000.00 to the people of our State, but it means also the completion of about 5,000 miles of "honest to God" highways in less than five years."

"To be sure, Mr. Poupore and other County Commissioners would lose their jurisdiction over the State system of roads in their county, but the benefit to the State at large and the saving to the tax payers would be so great that it should more than compensate the Commissioners for the loss of supervision over the trunk roads in their county and it would at the same time permit them to give their entire attention to the building of their county systems of highways."

The time is here when the State at large is interested, and has a right to be, in the roads. There is scarcely a citizen in the state of North Dakota who does not at some time during the year, use the roads outside his own county and he has a right to expect that wherever he may go that he may travel on in safety, comfort and with but small expense."

GATHER FORCE AT U. S. OFFICE FOR SEED LOANS

Allocation of the Money to Begin Speedily, According to Warburton

Grand Forks, N. D., March 31.—Allocation of the federal seed loan will speedily be begun by C. W. Warburton of Washington, D. C., who is in charge of the Grand Forks office established for distribution of the $1-500,000 fund. The full force of clerks started work this week sorting the early applications and classifying them. Due to the fact that this year's appropriation is $500,000 less than a year ago, only the neediest cases will be cared for according to Mr. Warburton who believes he has the work well enough in hand to insure the placing of funds in the hands of the farmers in plenty of time for the spring seeding.

It is expected that the major portion of the money will go to the drought-stricken area in the southwest section of the state.

N. A. Olson has arrived from Washington, D. C. to work with Mr. Warburton who is in charge of the government's seed loan office in the federal building. Mr. Olson who will eventually take over Mr. Warburton's work made a survey of the drought-stricken areas last summer.

Mr. Warburton was in Minot this week where he held a conference with county agents in regard to farming conditions in the northwestern section of the state. He instructed the agents regarding the making of applications for portions of the $1,500-000 federal seed loan fund.

Another lot of application blanks is expected to arrive here. These papers will immediately be sent out to county agents, county auditors, bankers and elevators in order to expedite the filing of applications.

Blanks on which applications may be made have not yet reached Bismarck.

CONVENTION CALL ISSUED BY SPALDING

Burleigh County Will Have 14
Delegates at Convention
On April 19

DELEGATES ALLOTTED

Formal call for the Jamestown convention has been issued by Burleigh F. Spalding, as follows:

Pursuant to custom and by direction of the Anti-Townley and Anti-Socialist Republican State Committee, I hereby call a State Delegate Republican Convention of anti-Townley and Anti-Socialist Republicans, to meet at the City of Jamestown, at ten o'clock A. M., on Wednesday, the 19th day of April, 1922.

The business of such convention will be to adopt a platform and to select and endorse Republican candidates for all State and Congressional offices, including United States Senator, three Congressmen and three judges of the Supreme Court, to run upon such platform. Said convention may transact any other business which may properly come before it.

It is recommended that the delegates from each of the three Congressional Districts meet separately at the same time and place and agree upon a Republican candidate for Congress from their respective districts.

It is recommended that delegates be not instructed and that the unit rule be not enforced, but that proxies to Republican residents of the district from which the principal is elected be recognized.

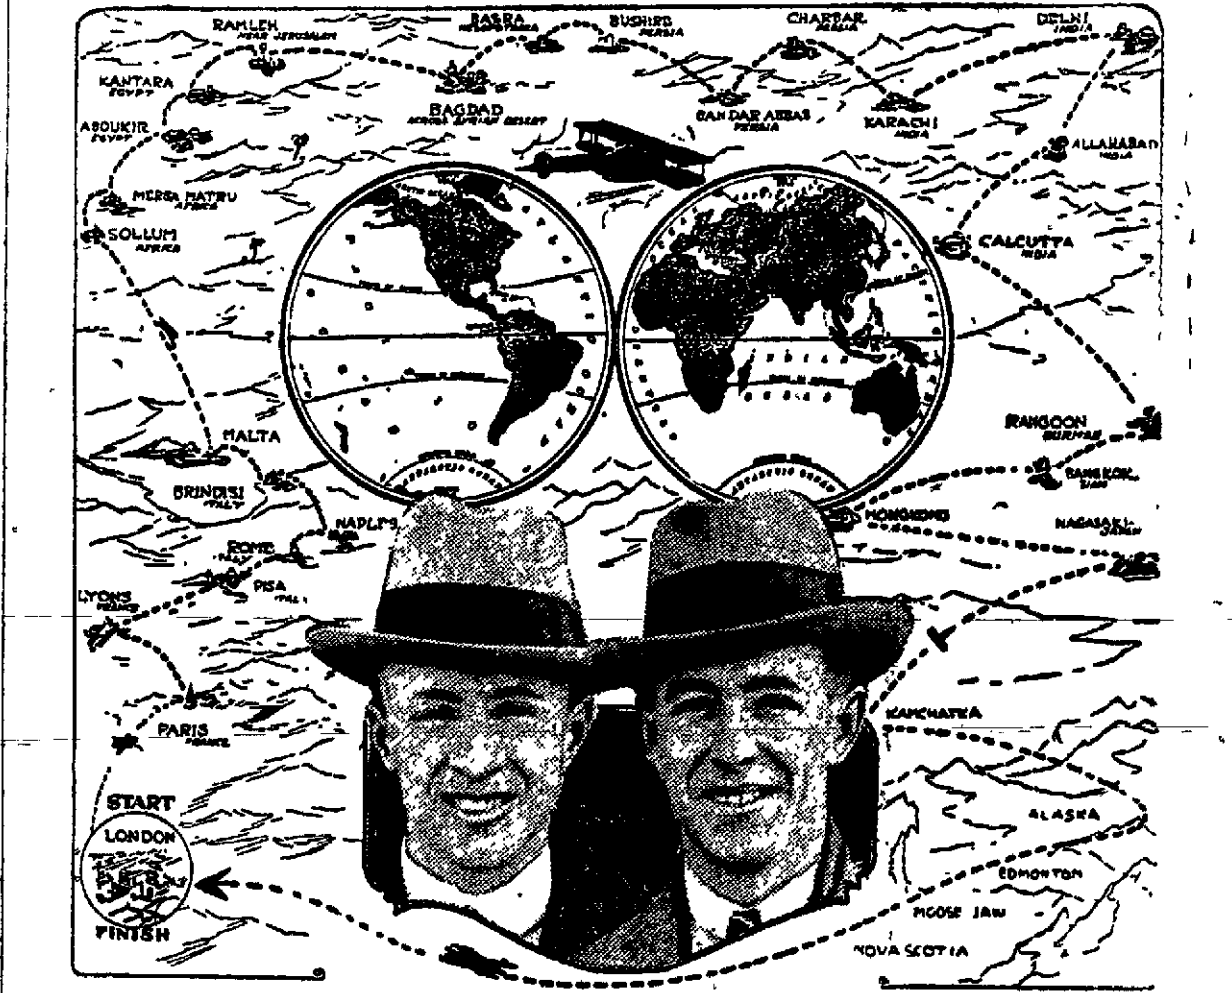

The State Committee will act as a committee on credentials for the purpose of determining what delegates are entitled to participate in the temporary organization, and to that end credentials from the several districts and counties should be sent to the Chairman at Fargo immediately after the adjournment of the Convention at which they are selected, but in any event, must be in his hands before the Convention is called to order.

The said convention will consist of 436 delegates elected upon the basis of the vote cast for John Steen for Treasurer at the 1920 Primary, one delegate for each 125 such votes or major fraction thereof, and the representation is by legislative districts, except in districts composed of more than one county, in which case, for convenience, each county will constitute a unit. The representation is as follows:

- District No. 1 Pembina County, 21.
- District No. 2 Part of Ward County, 3.
- District No. 3 Part of Walsh County, 7.
- District No. 4 Part of Walsh County, 3.
- District No. 5 Part of Grand Forks County, 7.
- District No. 6 Part of Grand Forks County, 4.
- District No. 7 Part of Grand Forks County, 8.
- District No. 8 Trafton County, 6.
- District No. 9 Part of Cass County, 21.
- District No. 10 Part of Cass County, 8.
- District No. 11 Part of Cass County, 8.
- District No. 12 Part of Richland County, 7.
- District No. 13 Sargent County, 8.
- District No. 14 Ransom County, 8.
- District No. 15 Part of Barnes County, 10.
- District No. 16 Steele County, 6, and Griggs County, 4.

The member of the Anti-Townley Anti-Socialist State Convention will call a county convention for his legislative district, and fix the proportion on the vote for John Steen at the last primary on the basis of one delegate to each twenty (20) votes or major fraction thereof. Such convention to be held at such place as the Committee man in conjunction with the Chairman of our County Central Committee may designate, but it is recommended that such conventions be held at two o'clock P. M. on the 15th day of April, 1922, and that such Committee man advise the precinct committee in each precinct of the day and place of holding such district or county convention, and of the number of delegates his precinct is entitled to therein, and direct him to call a precinct caucus giving the notice for the election of such delegates to the district convention. In any county forming only a part of a legislative district it will be a county convention. If for any reason it is impracticable to hold district conventions, or if notice is called in any district or county, then a mass convention is authorized to be held in such central place as the member of this Committee for such district may designate, on the date before specified for district conventions.

It is further recommended that district conventions also give endorsements for candidates for the legislature for their respective districts, and that before doing so they advise with any corresponding organization of other parties opposed to Socialism, and attempt to join forces.

All Republicans, whether male or female, opposed to the domination of Socialism under any name in this state are entitled to participate in caucuses and conventions.

Two "Schools" In N. D. This Year In Matter of Dress

Fargo, N. D., March 30.—Lucile, limited famous New York fashion house, failed the other day.

Because this emporium of tints is closed, however, doesn't affect the fact that North Dakota girls will run the lilies of the field a close race for smart attire next Easter morning. It even seems probable that the flower will be outdistanced as to color.

It appears that there are two schools in the state this year on the matter of dress.

The majority faction, which might be termed the "razzle dazzle" school, will bloom out under the Easter sun in hues of orange and flame.

The other element will wear clothes along tailored lines and box suits or sport clothes of tweed or polo cloth with a quiet swaggar with sailor hats—or other headgear of simple design. The suits will be of heaver, navy, or other subdued shades.

The over blouse, free at the waist and with turnover collar and bell sleeves also remains "good" as does the transparent brim hat. Some houses here are featuring the piping roak hat with a dent in the side and roll away from the face.

BY MILTON BRONNER.

London, March 30.—Early next month Sir Ross Smith, the Christopher Columbus of the air, will start from London in his long-projected trip around the world.

If he completes his voyage, King George will give him higher honors. He will make a fortune from books and lectures, and he will have gained undying fame.

Secrecy surrounds the trip because it is being privately financed. The British government has officially announced that it is not contributing a penny to the undertaking. The cost will be $200,000, or approximately $10 a mile.

Vickers, Ltd., is building the plane. It is a new type known as the Vickers Amphibian. It has wheels and pontoons, so it can land on either land or water.

Similar amphibians are being built by Vickers for the Japanese and United States governments for use on the Pacific.

Smith will follow the coasts as much as possible, for most of the land over which he will fly will be too rough for safe landings.

Sir Ross Smith will have as comrades on his voyage his brother, Sir Keith Smith, and Lieutenant Bennett, a mechanic. The three are Australians and in 1919 made the first flight from England to Australia.

The Australian government offered a prize of 10,000 pounds to the first Australian who would make this flight within a 90-day period. The Smiths and Bennett completed the voyage of 11,294 miles in 28 days, finishing Dec. 10, 1919.

Leaves Known Route
As a reward for this flight King George knighted the brothers.

Ross Smith's London-Australian flight was made easier by the fact that during his service in the World War he had surveyed air lines from Egypt to Mesopotamia.

His around-the-world tour will be simplified because he already has flown over nearly a third of the route.

The route will be from London across France via Paris and Lyons, across Italy via Pisa, Rome, Naples and Brindisi, thence to Malta and along the North African coast to Aboukir and Kantara in Egypt, across the Holy Land to Bagdad, thence along the Persian coast to Karachi in India, to Delhi, Allahabad and Calcutta, Rangoon in Burma and Bangkok in Siam.

Knights by King
At this point, he will depart from the route he followed to Australia, then to Alaska, Alaska and across Canada by way of Edmonton, Moose Jaw and Nova Scotia, jumping off for his flight across the Atlantic.

Smith may take one of two other routes across the North American continent, including Winnipeg, Fort William, Sault Ste. Marie, Montreal, Fredericton and Sydney; or Winnipeg, St. Paul, Chicago, Pittsburgh, New York and thence northward to Nova Scotia.

It's almost certain that Smith will cut down into the United States if possible for the sake of the advertising this will give his later writings and lectures.

Smith is a clean-cut youngster of 29, who looks even younger. He is as talkative as a clam. But is positive he will be the first man to circumnavigate the globe by air.

Congressman Mondell Prepares Speech For Delivery in National House

Washington, March 30.—Congress and President Harding are not at logger-heads despite the impression created by "certain writers and certain newspapers," Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, Republican leader, declared today in a statement which he said he had prepared for delivery as an address in the house.

"There never has been a time in my quarter of a century of experience in Congress when the relations between the President and Congress particularly the House of Representatives, were more cordial, more sympathetic and more agreeable," said Representative Mondell.

START FLIGHT ACROSS OCEAN

Lisbon, Portugal, March 30.—(By the Associated Press)—The attempted flight from Lisbon to Pernambuco, Brazil, was started this morning, the naval pilot taking the air at 7 o'clock. They hope to make the trans-Atlantic passage of more than 4,000 miles in 50 hours actual flying time. They expect to arrive in Brazil by April 13. The first stop will be at the Canary Islands; thence the route is by way of the Cape Verde Islands and Fernando, Noronha, a short distance northeast of Pernambuco.

Naval Academy Class of 1881 To Hold Reunion

Washington, March 30.—Plans are being completed for the next reunion of the famous Naval Academy class of 1881 which is to be held in Tokyo, Japan, in May. Included in the class graduates are Secretary Weeks, Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, superintendent of the Naval Academy; Maj. Gen. George Barnett, former commandant of the Marine Corps; Brig. Gen. Henry C. Hallen, of the Marine Corps; Senator O. E. Weller, of Maryland; and Admiral Urie, of the Japanese Navy. Admiral Urie attended the reunion in Washington last summer and then invited the classmen to meet in Tokyo this year.

A special invitation to attend the reunion was extended to Secretary Denby on the ground that having married the sister of a member he is a "brother-in-law member of the class."

The American members will make the trip to Japan on the naval transport wall, the Philippines and China en route.

The Functions of a Bank

There are many people of wide general information who have only a limited knowledge of the various services of banks. Some think of banking as an exclusive and privileged business exercising an irresponsible power.

The first great step in promoting the exchange of products was the adoption of a common standard of value and medium of exchange; in other words, the development of money. The difficulties of simple barter were so great as to obviously restrict the exchanges. A common standard of value provided a common basis for trade, a means by which commodities could be compared, priced and quoted in different markets, and the universal esteem in which the precious metals were held enabled them to be used as means of effecting exchanges and as standards of value. The actual shipment of coin, however, for each transaction, would involve much risk and expense, and where trade ran both ways there was an obvious gain by off-setting the transactions, which soon developed the use of bills of exchange.

In due course of time the settlements between distant cities and countries were handled there substantially as now, by a system of book entries and offsets.

A banker today is a bookkeeper and settling agent for his community in its transactions with the outside world.

In backward countries banks are but little used by the masses of the people, and money is hoarded, becoming a dead asset. A bank becomes a pool, into which are drained thousands of small sums, easily wasted, or, if not wasted, unproductive by themselves, and the sums so accumulated become active agencies in the life of the community.

Banks are the servants of business and the relations between the bank and its customers are reciprocal. In each line of trade and industry, it is commonly the case that the use for capital or credit is more or less fluctuating, so that at times each bank customer will accumulate cash balances while at other times needing to borrow. If the business of a bank is well distributed in various lines these fluctuations in individual balances and requirements will offset and compensate each other, thus securing the greatest economy and best results in the use of capital.

For forty years the First National Bank of Bismarck has served the City of Bismarck and the territory surrounding this city.

GROWERS WILL HOLD MEETING IN FARGO SOON

Hans Georgeson Will Tell of What Was Done Recently
In Chicago Meeting

Fargo, N. D., March 31.—A formal call was issued by Hans Georgeson, president of the North Dakota Farm Bureau federation for a meeting to be held in Fargo, April 11 to be attended by representatives of the U. S. Grain Growers, Equity Co-operative exchange, National Wheat Growers and Northwest Wheat Growers.

"The purpose," says Mr. Georgeson in his call, "is to make an effort to unify these movements. We deem it most vital for the success of this movement that these various organizations shall come together on one common united plan. A division among the growers will hold back success for years, while united action will be crowned with success."

Not Breaking Away.
"North Dakota has no intention of breaking away from the United States Grain Growers, Inc., sales agency," said U. L. Burdick, former North Dakota director of the association, in discussing the meeting.

"We hope to get the leaders of the National Wheat Growers, the Northwest Wheat Growers, the Equity Co-operative exchange and the United States Grain Growers in North Dakota, to agree to get together and present a united front."

"We have criticized the methods that were adopted at the Chicago meeting of the Grain Growers, but that does not mean that we were trying to disrupt that organization, in any degree. The fact is we are trying to build it up. We want it to work to function as a grain selling agency."

Point of Difference.
"The Gustafson administration of the United States Grain Growers want to build the Grain Growers' sales organizations. Our central idea is to build this organization for the benefit of the grower. The grain dealer has never been for the grower.

"At the conference on April 11 we will submit a plan to the North Dakota growers for a state unit where we can control organization work, the methods of getting together and whom are to get together with, as a state organization."

"Ready to Go."
"We in North Dakota are ready to go. We want a sales organization that will sell wheat. The Gustafson administration is promising that they will have a sales agency soon. They promised that a year ago and apparently they are no nearer a sales agency now than they were then."

At the Chicago meeting A. G. Burgeson of Douglas and J. A. McInnes of Dazey were elected directors of the U. S. Grain Growers for North Dakota. Other North Dakota men who have returned from attending the annual meeting at Chicago are: W. J. Church, Harry Devine and C. B. Prichard.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE BANK TO BE CALLED SOON

said he would ask a grand jury probe of all the affairs of the bank.

Statement of Attorney-General
A lengthy statement was made to the court by the Attorney-General.

"Counsel for the defendant before the noon recess having made a motion to dismiss and the same having been denied by the court, and the court having at that time made certain suggestions and statements with reference to various matters, some of which are directly and some only collaterally involved in the proceedings pending before the magistrate, the state makes the following statement preliminary to and in support of its motion hereafter to be made," said Mr. Johnson's statement.

The statement recited the evidence offered by the state, saying that documents and records showed that J. J. Hastings, when vice-president of the Scandinavian bank, "took $6,000 from the general assets of the Scandinavian American Bank to cover the same put in a note of the United States Sisal Trust, signed by himself as trustee; that thereafter and on the 20th day of January, 1919, a draft was drawn on him personally by one T. P. Harvey who was at that time in general charge of the United States Sisal Trust promotion scheme at Miami, Fla. in the sum of $3,000; that at that time the vice-president of the bank took out of the general assets of the bank $3,000 and paid out of his own funds, to pay said draft and that the same was paid; that at the same time he put in to cover the withdrawal of funds a note purporting to be executed by the United States Sisal Trust by himself as trustee; that at that time the United States Sisal Trust was a promotion scheme and did not exist either as a corporation, partnership, association or common law trust; that the money thus taken from the bank on these two occasions was used in promoting the scheme, and that an understanding had previously been arrived at to which the said Hastings, Harvey and A. C. Townley were parties; that an aggregate sum of $25,000 should be advanced to assist in the promotion of such scheme, the United States Sisal Trust."

Want Grand Jury
The statement further reviewed the evidence and concluded:

"In view of the fact that the magistrate has indicated that in his opinion insufficient foundation has been laid to entitle the state to introduce evidence to connect the defendant, A. C. Townley, with the transaction which we charge constitutes an embezzlement, we deem it proper at this time to apply to the court for the dismissal of this complaint without prejudice to the commencement of other proceedings relating to this transaction, should such action be justified in the opinion of the state authorities. And in connection with this motion we deem it proper to observe that the magistrate has indicated from the bench that the evidence here has disclosed the condition of the business of the Scandinavian-American Bank to be in such a muddle that it was and is the

TREASURES OF CHURCHES TO BE CONFISCATED

Soviet Issues Decree That Precious Metals and Stones Must be "Turned" Into Food

OPPOSITION IS EXPECTED

Moscow, March 31.—(The Associated Press)—An Alladin's cave of jewels has been opened by the decision of the Soviet authorities to confiscate some of the treasures of the Russian churches and sell them to feed the famine sufferers.

(The Soviet decree issued Feb. 26 directs the seizure of all precious metals and stones "which would not interfere with the interests of the various cults." It has been announced that the All-Russian Central Committee will determine what articles are absolutely necessary for religious purposes and exempt from requisition).

Most famous of the church treasures, described by the Moscow newspaper, IZVESTIA, is the bejeweled ikon, "Our Lady of Kazan," at the Kazan Cathedral in Petrograd. It is a representation of the Virgin done in beaten gold, weighing 10 pounds and decorated with 1,555 larger and 1,432 lesser diamonds, 638 rubies, seven sapphires, 1,400 pearls and 155 other jewels; and hung about the neck of the Virgin is a diamond necklace of huge, first water stones.

At Peter Paul's cathedral, also in Petrograd, there is another famous ikon, known as the "Jerusalem Holy Lady," in solid gold. It is about two feet square, and contains 28 carats of large diamonds, 13 carats of middle-sized diamonds and 14 and one-quarter carats of smaller stones. Altogether, in this church, says the IZVESTIA, there are 24 almost equally valuable ikons.

To St. Isaac's Cathedral, Petrograd, were presented on the day it was opened, a total of 215 articles containing 81 pounds of gold and 4,788 pounds of silver and later a shrine was built of solid silver, weighing 468 pounds. St. Isaac's also has one ikon, 21 inches wide by 28 inches high, done in gold overlay and bearing a wreath in large diamonds. There are a dozen other ikons of tremendous value at St. Isaac's alone.

Favored by Royalty
While these big Petrograd cathedrals, which were long favored by royalty, probably contain the most valuable treasures of the Greek Orthodox church in Russia, nearly every one of the estimated 61,000 other cathedrals, monasteries, convents and churches contains objects in gold and silver and jeweled ikons are not at all rare, even in the smaller edifices.

Royal gifts, donations by pious parishioners and church taxes for centuries went largely into ornamenting the churches, Kazan cathedral was the holy of holies to the Cossacks. The Cossacks of the Don once sent to it 1,440 pounds of silver asking that it be made into ikons of four of the Apostles.

Beyond their value in precious metal and jewels, some of the objects might be extremely sought after by collectors. The Byzantine magnificence of the jeweled ikons, however, might impress the Western world as more ornate than artistic.

With a few scattered exceptions, wherein some looting of churches may have occurred during the early days of the revolution, church treasures have been left practically intact.

Patriarch Tikhon, the head of the Russian church, is understood to contend that, since the church and the state have been separated, the title to the treasures rests in the hands of the parishioners of each church and that, therefore, it is for each parish to decide what treasures it wishes to surrender, for the famine sufferers.

He advises charity in this respect, but it is believed in Moscow that the church as a whole will strenuously oppose general confiscation, while willing to surrender those objects which it does not consider particularly holy or of essential use in sacramental observances.

R. R. Commission's Opinion Differs From High Court

Members of the board of Railroad Commissioners feel that, in deciding a point brought before them at New Rockford, they have come close to "reversing the supreme court." Last year in a case decided at Jamestown, and brought before the Supreme Court that body held that body was without power to change franchise rates. The commission admits the point of that case but holds that the New Rockford case was in another field than that of the Jamestown case.

The commission found upon investigation that the charge for general lighting for a certain kind of service

BEFORE AND AFTER

A new nose in three days for $6.66! That's what they are selling in Berlin. The operation is said to be painless and leaves no scar.

was eighteen cents while the charge for the same service in street lighting was seven cents. The owners of homes objected to such a disparity in costs.

In the order issued in the case, the commission deciding it had jurisdiction, raised the price of general lighting. No changes were made in the rate for power or for stoves.

As a part of the same case, but decided in a separate order, the commission also denied the application of the Midwest Power Company of New Rockford for permission to build a high power transmission line between New Rockford and Carrington, a distance of about fifteen miles. Request to dismantle part of the Carrington plant also was denied.

Hail Warrants Advance In Price First of April

Price of the North Dakota hail warrants will advance one-half of one per cent with the first day of April. This brings the price to within one per cent of par.

Officials of the local bank which has been buying the warrants for the Minnesota Loan and Trust company expect to be flooded after the first, the same as they were after the first of March, although almost no warrants have been received since that time.

"It is a good indication that the farmers do not want the money," declared F. E. Shepard in indicating that a very small amount of warrants had been received in the last ten days of March. The purchases thus far are a little more than a million, four hundred thousand, which added to the $300,000 purchased by L. B. Hanna means that less than $2,000,000 are in the hands of the two organizations that have paid the highest prices for them.

The active receipt of hail warrant taxes by the state auditor also indicate that calls for the 1921 warrants from the first counties will begin about the same time the buying concern begins to pay par.

PREUS FOR GOVERNOR

St. Paul, Minn., March 31.—Representative Republicans of Minnesota, chosen by the various county conventions as their delegates, met here today to endorse candidates for United States senator and state offices.

Called for 11 A. M. at the auditorium, the convention was expected to complete its business in six or seven hours, at the most, and Chas. R. Adams, state chairman, declared before the convention met that there would be no luncheon recess.

Foremost interest centered in the endorsement for United States senator, which in the county conventions lay between Frank B. Kellogg, incumbent, and Oscar Hallam, associate justice of the Minnesota state supreme court.

On the basis of the county convention instructions and resolutions adopted by those gatherings, Mr. Kellogg seemed assured of endorsement on the first ballot, although this claim was disputed by his opponents.

Other offices for which candidates will be endorsed include governor, lieutenant governor, state auditor, state treasurer, secretary of state, one railroad and warehouse commissioner, and a clerk of the supreme court. Supreme court justices are chosen without party designation.

Governor J. A. O. Preus, who had been talked of as senatorial timber early in the pre-convention campaign, came out some time ago with a formal statement declaring himself as a gubernatorial candidate, and his attitude was construed then as support of Mr. Kellogg.

In addition to endorsing candidates, the convention will draw up the party's platform on which the candidates will go expected to stand.

DEMOCRATS MEET.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 31.—While the Republican state convention was getting under way in St. Paul today, Democrats were preparing for their state convention here, which was set to start at 2 p. m. in the West hotel.

Two other state conventions were set for Minneapolis—those of the Nonpartisan party and the labor group. It was expected the Nonpartisan and the labor group would hold separate conventions, appoint conference committees to draft common platforms, and then would instruct for the same candidates for state office.

Before the Democratic convention got under way, it was commonly reported that it would mark time until the result of the Republican convention had been announced, and then would proceed to complete its work.

There was some doubt as to the probable choice of the Democratic convention for United States senator. L. L. Brown of Winona, currently reported in line for the honor, has declared he will not accept the endorsement. Several other names have been mentioned, but it was expected the convention itself finally would draft the candidate it deemed most promising. As in the Republican convention, the Democrats will endorse candidates for state office and draw up the party's

GIVE A BABY SYRUP PEPSIN

Constipation, biliousness and like annoying life will quickly disappear

A MOTHER is always anxious to give the safest and best medicine to a constipated baby, but is puzzled what to select. Lether decide by the ingredients on the package.

Every bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has the formula printed plainly on the outside of the carton under the portrait of Dr. Caldwell, who wrote the prescription in 1892. You will find that it is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It will not gripe the baby, and it is free from narcotics. A bottle sufficient to last a family several months can be had at any drug store, and the cost is only about a cent a dose.

child. Some contain minerals, coal tar and other drugs that might prove dangerous by over stimulating the intestines or depressing the heart. The ingredients of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are recommended by the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free

Few escape constipation, so even if you do not require a laxative at this moment let us send you a Half-Ounce Trial Bottle of my Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE so that you will have it handy when needed. Simply send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 214 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Write me today.

platform. It was expected the contents of the platform would depend largely on the declaration of principles adopted by the Republicans.

Draws Vouchers For Soldiers' Compensation

The adjutant general's office has drawn vouchers for payment of soldiers' compensation claims up to No. 5,426. It was stated today by R. D. Hoskins. It is expected that between $175,000 and $200,000 will be paid out of state funds next week received in the recent settlements of county treasurers with the state treasurer.

TO ISSUE SEED BONDS.

County Commissioners of Slope county have notified Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor J. A. Kitchen that they expect to issue bonds in order to provide for funds which farmers may borrow to purchase seed.

President Here To Confer With Local Officers

Lawrence Kelly of DeSmet, S. D., president of the Live Stock Improvement association meets with the officers of the Farmers Live Stock company for developing arrangements to further and develop better breeding hogs in North Dakota. Mr. Kelly has been president of the national organization for the past ten years in the dealing and breeding of fine hogs. Arrangements are being made with the Farmers Live Stock company of Bismarck whereby they will take active management of the distribution of hogs for the Live Stock Improvement association in the state.

The plan of the improvement association is, hogs are distributed among responsible farmers for caretaking on a profit-sharing basis. Mr. Kelly is very optimistic towards diversified farming industry in North Dakota and believes that every farmer should prepare himself to market a car of hogs each year.

President Johnston of the Farmers Live Stock company believes in farmers securing foundation breeding stock through the Live Stock Improvement association to be a good opportunity for responsible farmers to secure better breeding stock from foundation herds, and from all reports of the success Mr. Kelly has made of the organization and the success in other states where he has operated it will be a much needed service to the farmers of this state.

Wachter School Completes Drive

The drive for books for the Library which has been carried on by the school children during the past week will close on Monday. The interest has been kept up throughout the drive and each day a greater number of books were brought in.

Following is the standing of the various schools at noon today:

William Moore school—41,551. The 7A is leading with a total of 16,695. James Slattery continues to have the largest individual collection, 7,053.

Will school—35,988. The fifth grade is leading in the Will school with a total of 18,558. Mildren Hanwell has the largest individual collection, 10,256.

Richholt school—19,375. The 7th grade has the largest number collected, a total of 10,461.

Wachter school—3,733. The 3rd and 4th grades are leading with a total of 1,837. Christine Schmidt had the largest individual collection, 472. It was decided at the Wachter school to close the contest today. The complete returns show that the fifth and sixth grades had the largest collection and so won the right to the half holiday.

KATE O'HARE IS JEERED; TALKS IN STATE CAPITOL

Madison, Wis., March 31.—Despite the protests of American Legion posts throughout the state, Mrs. Kate O'Hare, Socialist, who served several months in prison for violation of the espionage act, last night delivered a speech in the assembly chamber of the state capitol.

Jeers and catcalls greeted Lieutenant Governor George F. Comings effort to introduce Mrs. O'Hare. The tumult became so great that he was unable to make himself heard. The din was kept up until Adjutant General Orlando Holway, who had been appointed by Governor John J. Blaine to keep order, had pleaded with his audience.

General Holway declared that he did not intend to use force and that his only appeal was to the good sense and regard for law and order of those present. His plea proved effective and when Mrs. O'Hare arose, she was greeted with scattering applause. Her subject was "Crime and Criminals" and she did not touch on Socialism or the opposition to her meeting.

LARRY SEMON BARNLY ESCAPES BEING HIT BY GIANT REDWOOD

One of the most interesting scenes in "The Sawmill," which will be shown at the Capitol theater tonight, shows the comedian in the heart of a lumber camp in the Lake Hume region of California performing strange antics while lumberjacks fell huge trees. Several times the comedian barely escaped being hit by one of the trees which fell within an inch of him.

On one occasion the comedian dodges into a shack to escape being hit by a tree, and another giant of the forest falls upon the building completely wrecking it. In this scene Larry had a close call. He was barely able to make a corner of the shack

Which Model?

Lots of men don't know the model they should wear—even a layman can tell from their appearance that they're not wearing the style they should. The style may be perfectly correct—but not for them.

EXPERT STENOGRAPHERS
A stenographer who can rattle off 80 words a minute on the typewriter is considered fairly speedy.

At this speed, allowing five letters to the average word, the typist's fingers hit the keys 400 times a minute, or nearly seven times a second.
To accomplish this, each letter is carried to the brain, sorted out, identified, relayed over the nerves to the fingertips and the necessary muscles called into play to strike the right typewriter key.

This complicated process occurs seven times a second.

Thought is the fastest and most powerful force. Light, which travels 186,300 miles a second, is a snail beside thought.

In a fraction of a second you can run one of your thought waves out to a star so far away that it takes light millions of years to travel from the star to our earth.

Few people use this enormous power, thought, possessed by all except the mentally unbalanced.

Watch a fast stenographer, pounding the keys so rapidly that her fingers receive nearly 200,000 tap-shocks a day without causing more than mild nervous fatigue.

Apply those same taps to any other part of the body and insanity would speedily result.

One of the most terrible of medieval tortures was allowing water to trickle slowly, drop by drop, on the forehead of a prisoner bound to a bench. Victim always went crazy.

The typist takes that same torture daily, many times over, because she works up to it gradually in learning her trade.

Behold there, the body's marvelous powers of adapting itself to new conditions.

It is this power of adjustment that enables men to stand the sudden changes brought by lost fortunes.

For a moment there is anguish, for days grief. Then, if the victim doesn't lose heart and commit suicide, the body and brain adjust themselves to the new situation. Things go on with the lapse of time and soon there is as much happiness as ever, expressed in a different way.

When life gets monotonous and bothersome, look about and examine the first thing that catches your eye.

Everything in the world has, locked up in it, as intense an interest as the things you learn by watching the typist's flying fingers.

That's what Horace Greeley meant when he said that a good reporter could write an interesting column about a cobblestone or a pin.

SOMETHING IN COMMON

Max Oser—engaged to marry Mathilde McCormick, grand-daughter of John D. Rockefeller—has sold his riding academy and livery stable in Switzerland.

Max, it's reported, will arrive in America in April, to be presented to the Rockefellers and McCormicks.

When he meets his prospective grandfather-in-law, talk will be interesting. John D. years ago ordered every Standard Oil teamster to weigh his horses once a month and send the weight to Rockefeller headquarters, 26 Broadway, New York.

Teamsters, never knowing when "the old man" might pick up the reports, saw the wisdom of keeping their horses in good condition.

Rockefeller had two motives. One was kindness to animals. The other was psychology, without an uncanny knowledge of which John D. might still be a bookkeeper.

OIL DISCOVERIES

John D. Rockefeller got into the oil business soon after Colonel E. L. Drake started the American petroleum industry by bringing in his first well at Oil Creek, Pa.

Before then, oil was collected by the Indian method, wrung out of blankets which soaked it up as it floated on streams.

Standard Oil Company, seeking new oil deposits, has just finished a well 6,202 feet deep in California. That's operating more than a mile underground.

Between the Indian blankets and the California well is a tremendous gap, bridged in 63 years by the lure of gold.

Colonel Drake is credited throughout the oil industry as the driller of the first American oil well, in 1859. Thirty years before that, an old well was drilled at Burkesville, Kentucky, and came in a "gusher." But Drake really started the modern oil industry.

Look him up in the encyclopedia. You will not find him mentioned, except incidentally in the article on petroleum.

The encyclopedia lists 10 Drakes—poets, sculptors, authors, lawyers, doctors, explorers.

That's one thing wrong with history and education—not enough attention to inventors and discoverers of the useful and necessary things of life.

LUNGS OF A SMOKER

The lungs of a heavy smoker, dissected after death, frequently are gray-black from tobacco smoke.

Spring air is invigorating these days. Breathe deeply. Fresh air is to the lungs what carrying out ashes and clinkers is to the furnace. Especially so for smokers.

Take a deep breath—now. You'll notice you call into play the lower part of your lungs, generally idle.

Deep breathing by day and fresh air when you sleep will move you years away on the undertaker's list.

MR. TOWNLEY QUILTS

A. C. Townley, who not only organized and led but to a very large extent was the Nonpartisan league of North Dakota and elsewhere, has announced that he will resign as president at the meeting of the Minnesota organization March 31.

This, apparently, because the members in North Dakota pretty generally rejected his plan of using the strength of the league as a balance-of-power device to influence the existing parties rather than trying to succeed as a party. Incidentally, this was pretty wise advice. The Anti-Saloon league put America dry by that method, and Townleyism isn't getting on well as a party. It has failed to get control in other states, and it has lost control in North Dakota.

With Townley out, what becomes of Townleyism? For one thing, opponents of the movement who are fond of using epithets will have to get a new one. They can't call it "Townleyism" any longer, with Townley's idea repudiated and Townley no longer its chief.

What was Townleyism, anyway? It was, in the first place, a general discontent among farmers, based on the conception that because there is too long a route between producer and consumer and too many leaks along the way, the producer wasn't getting as much out of his work as he ought to get. Given that, and a shrewd, forceful, plausible agitator with skill at working upon such passions, it was easy to organize an agrarian movement, and Townley did it. The movement got North Dakota, and threatened many other states. It didn't get Minnesota, but it bluffed Minnesota into soaking its mining industry with a tonnage tax, and it forced Minnesota to adopt a very comprehensive and promising program of legislation for the farmer—a far more elaborate program than would have been possible without the fear of Townleyism to hurry it along.

There have been agrarian movements before. What distinguished this one was the methods it proposed. It proposed to put the state in business so that the farmer would not be exploited by private interests. This was frankly a form of state socialism—sticklers for sociological accuracy call it, rather state capitalism, and they may be right. Anyway, the plan was to substitute the state for private capital in a number of fields; and that scared the private interests then occupying those fields; and many others who feared that if such a start were made their turn to be ousted might follow. It scared others besides who, realizing that the state is as yet by no means a good business man, feared disastrous results from experiments so sweeping.

That was Townleyism. The movement, repudiating Townley and his advice with the result that he is quitting, will try to get along on its own momentum. Probably it will not get far. Some of its leaders seem to lack the sincerity and unselfishness of Townley; for Townley seems to have been sincere and generally unselfish. If he was greedy for anything, it was power. He does not seem to have sought financial profit, nor to have gained much of it.

Townleyism without Townley is going to be a good deal like "Hamlet" without Hamlet. Probably it won't last long. It was slipping rapidly anyway.

But before it is forgotten there is a lesson in it. There never could have been any Townleyism if the farmers hadn't had real grievances. If society, by dealing justly with all its members, is wise enough to see that no class has a just grievance, it will be secure. If it is unwise enough to let a class—farmers or workers—acquire just grievances, then it is going to be disturbed. And if things get bad enough, a state of society careless enough to let them get that way is likely to be overthrown, with consequent disasters to everybody, including the overthrowers.

The lesson of Townleyism, clearly, is that the security of society can have no other foundation than justice, complete and covering all.—Duluth Herald.

710 Clubs Plan Drive April 2-8 For Closer Relations Between Countries

Better commercial and social relations between the United States and the Dominion of Canada are the goal for which 62,000 members of the Kiwanis clubs of North America will strive during the week beginning April 2.

They have dedicated the week of April 2 to 8 to the celebration of the century of friendship which has united the two great English speaking nations of the North American continent. This period was selected because it was in April, 1812, that negotiations between the United States and Great Britain were finally completed for restricted armament upon the Great Lakes.

The practical disarmament accomplished typifies the fine relation between the two countries since.

710 Clubs Co-Operate
Seven hundred and ten Kiwanis clubs in celebrating the week will receive the co-operation of Chambers of Commerce, churches, schools and Boy Scout organizations in a weeklong jubilee.

The purpose of the gatherings will be to help Americans and Canadians to understand one another's ideals and needs. Canadians will address American clubs and American speakers will address Canadian clubs.

This international celebration program upon which must be predicated all our hopes for future peace is one of many blows struck by Kiwanis at narrow partisanship.

The first work of a Kiwanis club is to promote the best interests of the community in which it exists, but it must also promote good feeling between cities, states, provinces and countries so that in the end international amity shall be accomplished.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The secret was out at last. "Oh, Nick, we've got the right record after all," said Nancy. "It forgot its message because it had a raveling from the Cloth of Dreams wrapped around it. Now the poor Squeedillums are all tangled up in it and they can't remember a thing either. We can't go away and leave them this way. Look at poor little Mr. Jinks. He doesn't even remember his own name."

"But if we touch the raveling we'll forget everything, too," said Nick. "Just as we did in the Sorcerer's cave, and then we'll never get to the end of our journey."

"What's that? What's that?" came another voice. And there stood the ugly little gnome called Crookabone. "Oh, sir," begged Nancy, "please don't work any of your bad magic. We've had so much trouble and we're on an important errand. Mr. Twelve Toes, the Sorcerer, has kept us back terribly and—"

"Tut!" said Crookabone shortly. "I'm not bothering you. I don't care a snap about your errand or about Twelve Toes or anything else just now. I've got affairs of my own to attend to."

"I was on my way to the Money Lender's to pay him some money I borrowed when I heard someone talking about a raveling from the Cloth of Dreams."

"I've been looking for one for a hundred years. Where is it? Give it to me. I'll hand it to the Money Lender instead of his money and he'll forget I owe it to him."

"But that isn't honest," protested Nick.

"Honest! I should say not. If it was I wouldn't do it," said wicked Crookabone. "Gnomes are neither truthful nor honest. Oh, there it is," spying the raveling. "It's wrapped around those silly Squeedillums who don't know anything."

Crookabone gave it a jerk and disappeared.

The Squeedillums were free. (To Be Continued)

Almont Farmer Is Not Suicide?

That George Klieh, farmer of the Almont district who mysteriously disappeared March 23 from his home may have been "hooked into the creek by a cow," is the belief of Fred Leonard, New Salem, who was in Mandan in conference with officials on the case. Mr. Leonard aided in the search for Klieh.

It is possible, too, that he may have fainted at some place and died. Klieh according to Mr. Leonard, about two years ago had a stroke and fainted while walking down the main street of New Salem. Since then, with any over-exertion his heart has come back on him and caused him to faint. "If he had a spell while out on the prairie some place we probably will find him when the snow has melted," he said. Mr. Leonard does not believe that Mr. Klieh committed suicide.

Since the date of his disappearance the river has again frozen over from bank to bank.

Secondary Schools Hold Tournament

Champions of six counties will meet in Mandan today for the district basketball tournament of secondary high schools and consolidated schools. Entries include seven teams which were not eligible to the state high school tournament, as follows: Carson, title holders in Grant county; Taylor, champs of Stark county outside of Dickinson; Helron, fastest quint in Morton outside of Mandan; Goodrich high school, Sheridan county title holders; Hazen, undisputed school champions of Mercer and Dunn counties; and Robinson and Dawson, both claiming the championship of Kidder county.

Opening games will be played this afternoon and evening, the finals most probably between the Hazen and Carson quint will be played Saturday afternoon, and the winners will go to Valley City for the state tournament at secondary schools the latter part of next week.

DIRECTORS NAMED

Directors of the Torchlight Oil and Gas company, which held its annual meeting in Mandan, were elected as follows.

Wm. Maa, president of the Farmers Equity bank; J. A. Timmerman, assistant cashier of the same institution; E. C. Riekel, Bismarck; J. J. Volk, president of the Farmers State Bank of Belview, Minn.; and Wm. J. Sullivan of the law firm of Sullivan, Hanley & Sullivan, Mandan, were named as the board of directors.

Joseph C. Buechler, of Hague, N. D., and J. J. Volk, Belview, Minn., formerly of Hague, as well as other stockholders were authorized by the company to accept stock subscriptions.

The company owns land in Wyoming which it believes will be one of the best producing in the Wyoming field. Directors plan extensive drilling this summer.

Directors of the Mandan Commercial club at the meeting last evening elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Geo. F. Wilson.
Vice President—F. W. Mees.
Treasurer—A. H. Peterson.
The secretaryship will probably go to Thos. H. Sullivan, but no action was taken last evening, as before Mr. Sullivan can be engaged it will be necessary to raise the budget of approximately $7,000 to cover rental expenses and the secretary's salary.

Dr. H. O. Altow has left for Rochester, Minn., where he will attend the American Congress of Internal Medicine to be held at the Mayo hospital. From Rochester he will go to Minneapolis where the fellowship degree will be conferred upon him.

Mrs. Charles W. Kirsch of Sturgin, Michigan, arrived in Mandan today and will be the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Waldo.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murphy of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Mrs. Bamber of Chicago were called to Mandan on account of the illness of Mrs. Johanna Murphy at the Charles McDonald home.

Coach Ericson of the Mandan high school has gone to Washburn where he will referee the games of the McLean county basketball tournament.

THE ELTINGE

Wm. S. Hart in his latest picture, "Travelin' on," is the attraction at the Eltinge Saturday. It is the style of story to which Hart is best fitted and he appears in the kind of a part that the public has come to expect for him. As "J. B." a character of the old west, he is rough and ready and commands respect by his force and power. A new interest comes into his life when he meets a traveling preacher and wife. Ethel Grey Terry is the heroine of the story.

"Hall the Woman" with Theodore Roberts and Florence Vidor, shows for the last times today, Friday, at the Eltinge.

CHARMING HOME

Quaint, Semi-Colonial Design Gives Hospitable Appearance.

BOTH COZY AND INVITING

Enduring Qualities of Material Used in This House Insures Long Life—Lines Are Soothing to the Eye.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

Hospitality is the heart and core of the really successful home; be it a small shack in a wilderness or a palace on a street of mansions. Part of this hospitality, of course, is furnished by the people who live in the house, but an impression of welcome can often be very successfully imparted by the exterior and interior design and arrangement. For instance, the old-fashioned colonial design by nature is hospitable looking. It has a quaint front entrance that is inviting; its simple lines are not jarring, but rather soothing to the eye. It radiates welcome and quiet comfort.

There is much the same that can be said about the bungalow. It is innately cozy and inviting. There is something about its smallness, its individuality of design that makes it strongly appealing. Consequently if a combination of the colonial and bungalow is effected the result must be doubly alluring.

That, we believe, is the impression given by the charming little bungalow the terrace mentioned above. Diagonally across from the living room is a glass door opening into the dining room which faces out on the terrace and gets the benefit of light from windows on three sides. The terrace is artistically enhanced by brick columns joined by lattice work and a very charming quaint gate.

The dining room is 14 by 12 with a built-in buffet. It is connected with the kitchen, which is quite small. In this room many built-in features provide the necessary equipment, such as icebox, cupboards and range.

In the rear left corner of the house are two bedrooms smaller than the master room in the front. They are each 10 by 12 feet. They open into a hall which runs from the front vestibule to the bathroom.

There is something about this charming little bungalow home that stamps it as being worth while. It is inviting without and cozy within, a home that will satisfy.

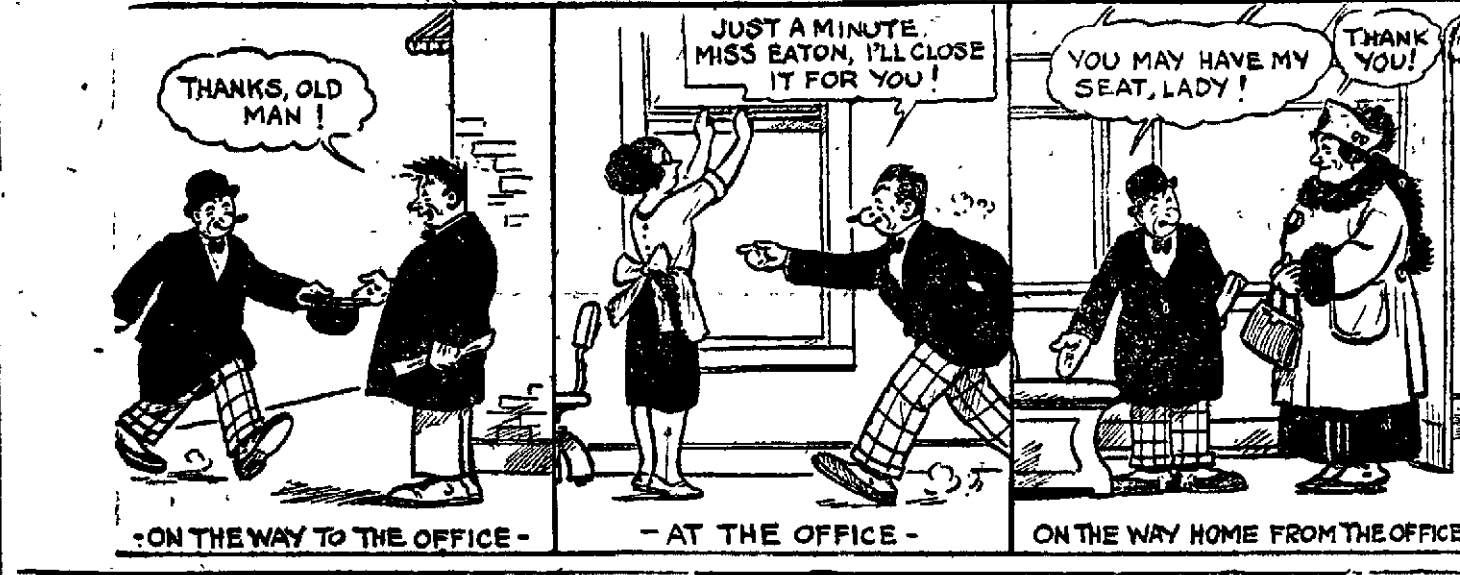

A concrete trackway along the side of the house leads the way to a small frame garage in the rear, without which no house, in this age of automobiles, is complete.

RARE BEASTS IN SYDNEY ZOO

New South Wales Has the Only Specimens of the Platypus and the Echidna.

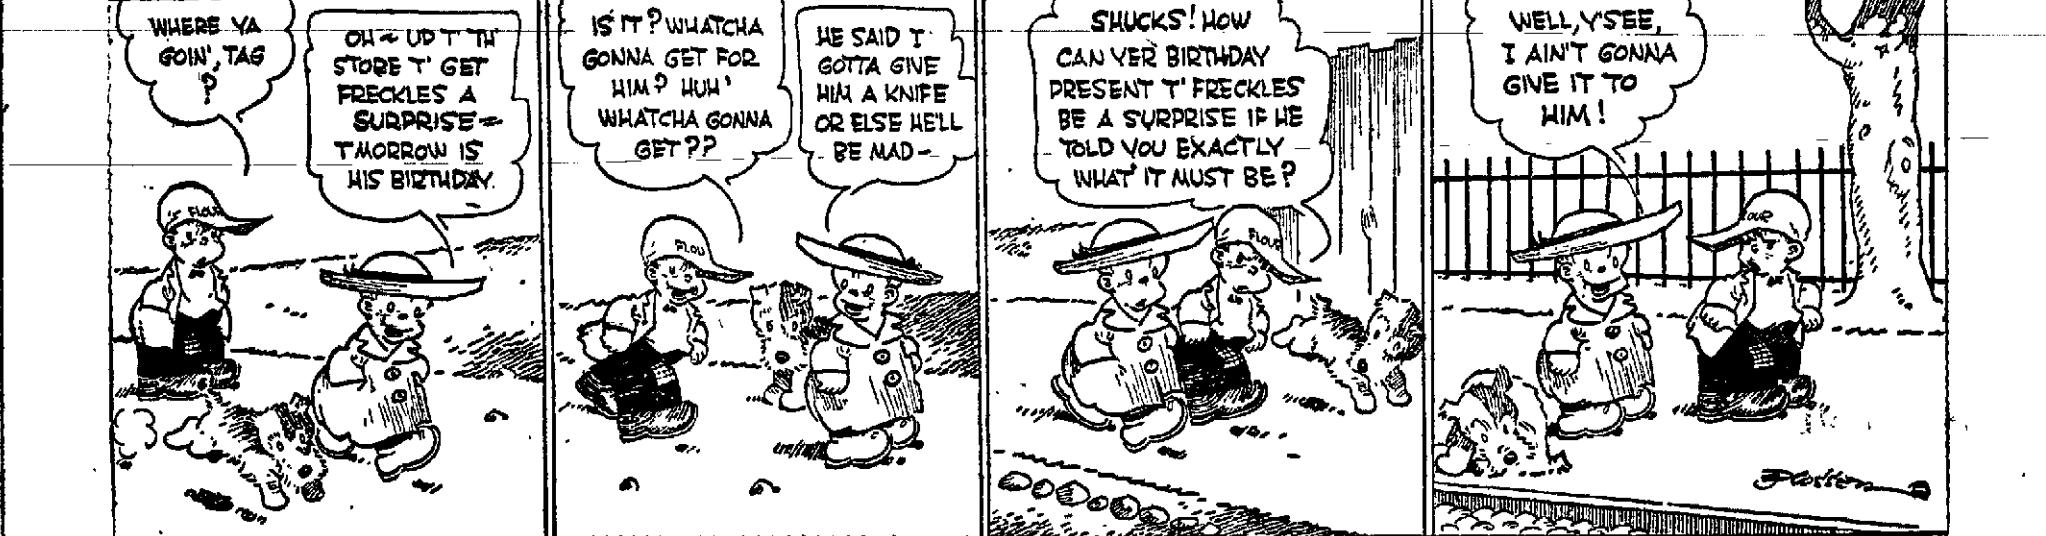

In the zoological laboratory at Sydney, N. S. W., may be seen living specimens of the platypus and the echidna, the sole surviving links between reptiles and mammals. The platypus is a nocturnal animal found in the quiet upper reaches of rivers, and it still plentiful there, despite the demand for its fur. It is now rigorously protected by law. It feeds on fresh-water shrimps, aquatic snails, and worms. Its duck bill is an extremely delicate and sensitive structure, as the platypus finds much of its food by touch in the soft mud. For breeding purposes the platypus builds a tortuous tunnel in the river bank, sometimes 50 feet long. At the end a chamber is excavated and a nest made of roots, gum leaves, and reeds. Usually two eggs are laid, which are attached to

MARKETS

CHICAGO WHEAT.

Chicago, March 31.—Plentiful moisture in the domestic winter wheat crop belt together with weakness in Liverpool led to lower wheat prices today. The condition of winter wheat was figured at 78.7 per cent by a leading expert as against 76 in December. It also estimated the probable yield at 530,000,000 bushels. Opening quotations which ranged from 1-4 to 1 cent lower were followed by slight further declines in some cases.

Pallies in sterling but the market took a downward slide later. The close was unsettled 1 to 2-8 cents net lower.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK.

St. Paul, March 31.—Cattle receipts, 1,400. Generally steady. One small lot yearling beef steers, $3.00. Bulk medium beef steers, $6.25 to $7.25. Best lot of the day, $7.50. Butcher cows and heifers mostly, $4 to $6. Few better offerings on up to $7, to higher. Stockers and feeders slow, mostly steady, $4.50 to $7.25. Bulk, $5.25 to $6.50. Calves receipts, 1,100. Steady. Best lights mostly $7. Some up to $7.50; seconds, most $4 to $5.

Hog receipts, 6,000. Very slow, about $0 to 25 or more lower. Top, $10.15. Bulk, $9.65 to $10. Packing sows, $8 to $9. Good pigs, $10.25.

Sheep receipts, 500. Steady to strong. Best native lambs, $15. Top ewes, $9.50.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK.

Chicago, March 31.—Cattle receipts, 3,500. Generally steady.

Hog receipts, 21,000. Fairly active, largely 5 to 10 cents lower.

Sheep receipts, 6,000. Steady to 25 cents higher.

of brick that is illustrated herewith with floor plans. It is colonial in design, as you can see from the entrance, the low position on the site, the small panes in the upper sash of the windows, the quaint touches here and there of white trim and the brick terrace set low on the ground. It is a charming picture.

Yet it is most sensible in construction and sound. Built to last, it has the enduring qualities of that material and there is no cause for fears that this home will not last at least one generation and perhaps many more.

Stepping from the sidewalk one finds himself on a low brick terrace. The quaint front entrance opens into the living room which is truly colonial in size and appointments. It has the characteristic fireplace that burns, set back in the side wall, with a great fire providing plenty of draft for a bright fire. The room is spacious, 22 by 12 feet. Without the large living room, the modern house loses much of its flavor and comfort. Here is the room where the family can entertain without crowding, here is the ideal place to lounge and read. Off one side of this living room is a bedroom of good size, shut off by a pair of vanishing doors, which have been gaining in popularity because they can be pushed into the wall out of the way. In case of a large reception or event of that kind these doors can be moved back and the two rooms thrown open, giving a stretch of 37 feet. This bedroom has two large windows facing front and one on the side. If not needed for a bedroom it can be used as a library or den. It is equipped with space-saving closets.

The living room opens into a small vestibule which in turn opens out on one another so securely that considerable force is necessary to tear them apart. The entrance to the nesting chamber is always stopped up by the female with a plug of earth, which she replaces whenever she enters or leaves. The incubation period is as yet unknown. The young when hatched are less than an inch long, quite naked and blind, with no trace of the characteristic platypus bill. Fur develops at the age of ten or twelve weeks, and the young then leave the nest. The female platypus possesses no pouch, and its mammary glands are of a primitive type somewhat resembling sweat glands, opening on the surface of the belly by a number of separate pores. There are no teats.

Women on the Stage.

Women first appeared on stage early in the latter half of the Seventeenth century. In 1656 Mrs. Colman performed the part of "Ianthé" in Davenant's "Siege of Rhodes" before a select audience. Mrs. Davenport as "Roxalana" and Mrs. Saunders (afterwards Mrs. Betterton) as "Ianthé" were the first bona fide English actresses. They made their first appearance in 1661. Before this period actresses were unknown; the female parts in plays were always taken by men. Charles II (1660-1685) is said to have first encouraged women to appear on the stage in England, in 1662.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE BY ADVERTISING

Notice is hereby given that by reason of default therein that certain mortgage made and executed by John Walter and Veronica Walter, his wife, mortgagors, to the Hennepin Mortgage Loan Company (changed by amendment to the Hennepin Mortgage Company), which said mortgage is dated October 1st, 1915, and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Bismarck, county of Burleigh, state of North Dakota, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon of the 15th day of April, 1922, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage on the date of sale.

The premises described in said mortgage at the front door of the court house in the city of Bismarck, county of Burleigh, state of North Dakota, at the hour of one o'clock in the afternoon of the 15th day of April, 1922, to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage on the date of sale.

The premises described in said mortgage and which will be sold to satisfy the same are as follows:

The East Half (2 1/2) of the Northeast Quarter (NE 1/4) and the North Half (N 1/2) of the Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4) of Section Twenty-eight (28) Township One Hundred Forty-one (141) Range Seventy-nine (79).

Said mortgage contains a clause authorizing the mortgagee to declare the whole sum due if there is a default, and the whole of said mortgage is hereby declared due. There will be due on said mortgage on the date of sale the sum of $187.85.

Notice of intention to foreclose was given, as required by law, more than thirty days before the beginning of the proceedings. The default consists of the non payment of the sum of $24.00 principal and $158.85 interest.

Dated this 3rd day of March, 1922.

HENNEPIN MORTGAGE COMPANY, Mortgagee.

E. T. Burke, Attorney for Mortgagee, Bismarck, North Dakota. (3-10, 17, 24, 31; 4-7, 14).

HATS

Very large soft-brimmed hats are being shown for summer. They are invariably ornamented heavily with flowers.

COLORS.

Noticeable among the new color combinations is a tendency toward red and blue. A brilliant red with a deep warm blue is seen much.

1921 Was Strikers' Year in Germany—Unions Winners

Berlin, March 31.—Thirteen million workers participated in strike movements in Germany during the last 12 months, 8,000,000 of them members of Socialist labor unions. The strikers include 2,751,000 women.

Strikes and threats of strikes numbering 33,000 affected 642,000 businesses. Except in 247 cases the strikes were for higher wages and shorter hours.

These movements resulted in a loss of 12,716,000 work days and cost labor 98,000,000 marks a week during the periods of idleness.

The workers secured weekly increases of wages amounting to 608,139,855 marks, (equivalent to about $27,000,000) an average weekly increase of 33 marks and 55 pennings per workman, double pay for over time was also secured.

Employers in almost every strike promptly agreed to arbitration and nearly all were settled with no other damage than loss of time and temporary suspension of business.

Demand for higher wages brought about by the increased cost of living is considered an unpleasant necessity by the labor unions. A statement recently from union offices said:

"Insistent demands for more pay are regrettable from the workman's standpoint. Unfortunately more wages are necessary. There seems to be a rather hopeless race between wages and prices, in which prices so far have been leading."

The statement added that the wage and labor troubles were only another evidence of the "unhealthy" condition of the German state.

URGE SUPPORT FOR M'CUMBER

Called 100 Per Cent American by G. A. R. and W. R. C. Leaders

Support for Senator P. J. McCumber by veterans of the past wars is urged in a statement received here, subscribed to by J. M. Pipes, former Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of the Potomac, and Miss M. A. du Bant, secretary of the Women's Relief Corps, of Washington, D. C. The letter says: "We the Past Commander and Secretary of the W. R. C. of the Department of the Potomac, now being familiar with the sentiments of the G. A. R. and subsequent wars, most respectfully request that the soldiers of our wars and their auxiliaries give their most earnest and heartiest support to the re-election of Senator P. J. McCumber, for the reason that he has always been a strong supporter of the various pension bills for the soldiers and their widows. As Chairman of the Pension Committee, although now Chairman of the Finance Committee, he is considered one of the greatest financiers of the Senate. He still is a member of the Pension Committee and these is a pension bill now pending to increase the pension of the Old Veterans and their widows of the Civil War. For this reason we must have Senator McCumber re-elected to pass this bill.

Sons and Daughters of the Old Veterans and soldiers of the World War, cast your vote for your friend who is one hundred per cent American—P. J. McCumber."

CURED BY A NATIVE HERB

On board a vessel bound for India recently a man was bitten by a poisonous reptile, both the ship doctor and a famous surgeon failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system.

In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for, who produced a native herb which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.

Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value in the treatment of such ailments.

This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper for it.

STOCK BOARD MEN 'LAID OFF'

Lack of Funds Causes Reduction in Force

The Livestock Sanitary board, it was announced today following a meeting, is forced to curtail its campaign for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis because of lack of funds until July 1 when a new appropriation becomes available. Dr. W. F. Crew, secretary of the board, said that the men who have been employed on a per diem basis in making investigations and tests, cannot be employed until July 1, but that the one state field man and the five federal field men will continue their work.

Dr. Crew expressed the opinion that the board would be able to continue the major portion of its work, and said that splendid progress had been made in the fight against tuberculosis in cattle.

The board adopted a regulation prohibiting the sale and use of virulent products such as live germs which are used for immunizing purposes. The regulation was adopted, Dr. Crew said, because the live germs frequently fall into untrained hands and great harm is done. Such immunizing will be done through the Livestock Sanitary board in the future, he said.
